

The 1912 And 1915 Gustav Stickley Craftsman Furniture Catalogs

By Eric Degen

This book presents the two most important catalogs issued by Gustav Stickley during the height of the American Arts and Crafts movement. The 1912 catalog was the first to feature Stickley's iconic Mission Oak line, which quickly became one of the most popular furniture styles in America. The 1915 catalog expanded on the Mission Oak line and introduced new styles, such as Craftsman and Colonial Revival. Both catalogs are essential reading for anyone interested in the history of American furniture design.

Features:

- Over 500 pages of high-quality reproductions of the original catalogs
- Detailed descriptions of each piece of furniture
- Historical essays on Stickley and the American Arts and Crafts movement
- A comprehensive index

Reviews:

"This book is a must-have for anyone interested in American furniture design. It is the most comprehensive and authoritative work on the subject."
- American Furniture Magazine
